Have you ever had a goal you just couldn't reach? Goals are hard to reach sometimes. For instance my goal a couple years ago was to work out but I got sidetracked. You must keep going. Never quit and try again.

You need to keep going and aim high. Aim high and you won't shoot your foot off. This quote was written by Phyllis Diller. Try again and succeed. If you don't try you'll fail every time .

Never quit and try your best. If you quit you'll never reach your goals. If you quit you'll never get better grades. Things will never change if you quit.

To succeed you must believe in yourself. If you try you can succeed in life. Dreaming big is part of believing in yourself. Push harder and try, try, and try again. Believe in yourself and your future. Don't make just goals you know you can reach easily. You should have a mix of small and big goals.

Looking back you can see that to reach your goals you must aim high, never quit, and believe in yourself. If you try you and reach highland you can succeed. Never quit and try again. If you aim high you will succeed. Reach your goals and never give up until you do.
