Believe in yourself , that is the key in life, so aim high.

If you aim high you can complete a lot of stuff like theres this on time I wanted to go in one of the basketball games so I worked hard and I went in on

Have you ever had a time when you didn't think you couldn't do it? If you have, you should always believe in yourself because.

If you believe in yourself you can make a shot in a basketball game like I did so believe yourself I shot the basketball and I made it. I believe in myself you should always believe you can do things like that.

I wanted to quit football because I thought it was going to be hard but then I worked hard so then I kepted on playing and I was pretty good and I went to the games and I want to keep on playing.

If you believe in yourself you can complete things. I went to a basketball game and at halftime there was a game. It was a simon says so when I went to play that game it was pretty close but then I won and I was so happy.

I played at the YMCA, then I became a good basketball player, then I played football, then I got pretty good then I started to play tackle football so I always Aimed high so you should always Aim High and you can complete anything in life.
