Rise Above

Have you ever had a goal that you tried to achieve? Like Karen Casey said "One part at a time, one day at a time, we can accomplish any goals set for ourselves." Well I have a lot of times but never have achieved it. This year I will achieve my goals and not give up.

Firstly, Aim High. I will aim high for my basketball team and not quit on them. I will get better at cheer so good that I will get better than my friend Pete. I can become a better daughter and not argue with my mom so much. Another thing I can do is be a better friend and not argue over silly things.

Secondly, believing in myself. I want to get straight A's which means to pay more attention to the teacher. Another school goal is to win a basketball game and believe in my team. Next is getting better at softball and trying harder even when I'm hot and tired..

Lastly, Never Quit. I am trying to get better at reading so that I can read big books like my dad. I need to make sure to make my bed in the morning so that I can watch a show with my dad that evening. I want to work on being kinder to my brother so he does not dislike me when he is older.

That is my goals for this year. I will achieve my goals this year even though it will be tough to do. I will do it by remembering to Never Quit, Aim High, and Believe in myself.
