How I Accomplish my Goals

Man, goals are crazy things right? But they are just another part of life. That is why today I am going to be sharing my goals with you, and telling you what my goals are for the year and my life.

One of my goals for the year is to get faster and better at softball. Softball is my favorite sport and if I am not better at it I will be very sad. If I don't get better my team will be let down and I will never play. Softball will help me 'Aim High' in all my goals. As I continue to improve, I will set new goals so that I'm continually improving.

My next goal is getting better, making better shots, and getting faster at basketball. Basketball is my 2nd favorite sport. In basketball I have to use my brain. Basketball is a competitive sport, so if I don't get faster and better I will not succeed in this goal. In basketball you have to expect to win. It is important to think like a winner. Sometimes you just have to ignore the negative thoughts.

My 3rd goal is to go to church more. Church is an amazing place where you can worship Jesus and God and the holy spirit. Church is a place where you can worship and pray and he answers our prayers. Going to church is the goal I want to accomplish the most. All of my goals I want to accomplish, and they are important but this is the one that means the most to me.

My 4th goal is getting more dogs. Dogs are my favorite animal. Currently I have 2 dogs, but I want five. I know that's crazy but someday I will get that many dogs. My dogs right now are the cutest things ever! I want a Husky, Golden Retriever, Great Dane, Rottweiler, and a corgi/ weiner dog/ chihuahua (that is what my dog is). This is a goal which will probably take a long time to reach, but I won't give up.

I hope you like my goals and read them thoroughly. My goals can possibly be an example for someone else.
