

Aim High

I feel like virtues are critical. I am a strong Christian and virtues pop up a lot in the Bible, like the fruits of the spirit or even in the ten commandments. They all demonstrate virtues. Today I am choosing: never quit, believe in myself, and aim high as the virtues to focus on. These all have meaning to me. Let me explain why.

Never Quit

I chose to never quit because what if I did? What if they did? In the bible God told Joshua to walk around the walls of Jericho once for 6 days and 7 times on the 7th day. This was so the Lord's will could be done. If they had quit the Lord's will wouldn't have been done and I want the Lord to work through me. Meaning I need to do what the Bible says and the Bible commands in 2nd Chronicles 15:7 but as for you be strong and do not give up.

Believe In Yourself

I feel like I need to believe in myself, because as a Christian I have to reach out to a lot of people. Sometimes I get nervous approaching people. It's not always easy to believe in yourself, but it is so important. If I came up to you and stuttered the gospel, would you be attracted to Jesus? Probably not. That's why it's important to believe in yourself.

Aim High

I think I need to aim towards the Lord's goal because the Bible says in 2nd Corinthians 5:9 Therefore we make it our aim, whether present or absent, to be well pleasing to Him, and obviously God's will is great so by aiming towards God I will be aiming high.

As a final thought, for me God has played a vital part of my virtues. He has placed the Bible in my life, as sort of a road map, something I can turn to when I get lost and it keeps bringing me closer to these virtues! Through his guidance I will stay in faith and I will never quit believing in myself or Him.
